You lit a candle in the center of the room
So I could find the table
To sit and drink the cup of Your eternal life
And find myself not so unstable

You spoke from where You were and it came to be
The Word was with You, the Word was You
You stood before me, so I couldn't get around
Before I noticed where I was pointed to

Angels sing Your name, because they know You
I will do the same
A cloud from a fire, my song will rise
Angels sing your name

You came to live with me but only for a while
Just visiting the land of needless
And soon we'll all gather at our perfect home
To dine with our eternal Father
