The only sky he ever knew was in his head
Blue didn't make much sense
And clouds formed like they said

And so the question was who cursed this man?
Trapped inside himself in his dark land
As long as daylight shines
The working must be done

Warm sun and winds are singing
Sandals sound a man approaching
A gentle voice rings out
And then He touches my face

Jesus healed my blindness, lifted up the veil
And His light poured on my face
Jesus healed my blindness with His Love
I am alive in His grace

The ship was filling fast
And soon would leave the port
They thought they lived the life
And refused to climb aboard

And so the mighty craft set sail
Left behind were those with blinding veils
You say that you can see
Then why does guilt remain?

Warm sun and winds are singing
Sandals sound a man approaching
A gentle voice rings out
And then He touches my face

Jesus healed my blindness, lifted up the veil
And His light poured on my face
Jesus healed my blindness with His Love
I am alive in His grace

Forgive my human ways
All the times I'm off my knees
I'm just walking backwards faster and faster

Seeking blindly for my peace

Jesus healed my blindness, lifted up the veil
And His light poured on my face
Jesus healed my blindness with His Love
I am alive in His grace

Jesus healed my blindness, lifted up the veil
And His light poured on my face
Jesus healed my blindness with His Love
I am alive in His grace
