"Don't Mention Disco"

I told my baby maybe I could meet him down at the disco
I could not believe my eyes, I saw him dancing with another girl
I held my breath, I closed my eyes, and I shuffled across the floor
I looked at him, he looked at me like he had never seen my face before
Don't mention the disco to me
That's where I lost my baby
Don't mention the disco to me
That's where I lost my baby
I couldn't speak 'cause
There was lipstick on his cheek it couldn't be denied
Some people laughed, some people sighed
My baby dissed me and so I cried I tried to run right for the door but then I tripped and flew across the Floor
Needless to say you won't seeme at the disco anymore
