3rd time is always a charm but I can barely sleep,
only to dream of you again,
can someone please explain this pounding in my chest (I want you bad)
I think Iâ€™m going down with you, will you be there to break my fall,
This time, will be better than the last

And all this time I knew it was too good to be true
I knew I was wasting my time

I never want to have to say goodbye to you, because I will only have to say hello again

(so leave, just leave me right where I belong tomorrow never looked so good with out you in my life) for all this time Iâ€™ve wasted this is what Iâ€™ve got, an empty heart, like frames on the walls of my room, and a voice I canâ€™t forget, calling out my name, something isnâ€™t right here, this is all I have to give,

itâ€™s all or nothing now.

I can barely breath, as we choke away our goodbyeâ€™s, dry the tears as you walk away and Iâ€™ll hold my breath.

Hello again, goodbye to you
