I just wanted to apologize to you, while it was weighing heavy in my mind.
Iâ€™m just a hopeless romantic with his head too tight, and I did not mean to hurt anyone

Bring back the times before I knew you, because every nights another story to you. and well, you built me up and you lead me on,
and you crushed me down so I sing this song

(all I need is sympathy from you) now this wasnâ€™t love and this wasnâ€™t lust, it was just a feeling, just a crush and now your bullet has pierced my skin, ridiculous this seems to me how a lush like you could get to me but now your lust has got to my head you played this off, and you played it well feeding lies through my mind so I could not tell, no you did not quite get to touch my heart you just chipped a rib and this fell apart.

Iâ€™m trying hard to think why this had to happen to me, as you take this out on all of your friends you take this out on all of your friends when itâ€™s not their fault, itâ€™s you in the end and with my lack of conversation, you start to fall apart.

(all I need is sympathy from you)
