trace the memories,
the times we've seen and how you made our day all and all I know that this may be the last line that I get to say to you

Because this is our lasting goodbye and this is my least favorite line these pennies and streetlights they are the best part of our lives, remind us of the times we've had the good and bad the oh so sad, they let us know that it's alright.

it's hard to say goodbye to you, through broken hearts

(you were the best part of our day)

16 copper faces, light the streetlights light the places
