Cliché - Why is it so beautiful?

As I lay here awake and gaze at the stars
These sensations in my chest and the beating of your heart
I watch as you sleep but I dare not dream
'Cos the dawn gives me all all but you

Why is it so beautiful
When I can see a thing
Why is it so powerful
When I can't feel a thing

Time stood still for us but not long enough
'Cos even the stars starts to fade away
As the wind of dawn cries, cries out my name
Slowly I rise

Why is it so beautiful
When I can see a thing
Why is it so powerful
When I can't feel a thing

When you finally see you're left begging for more
When you finally see you're left begging for more and more...

Why is it so beautiful
When I can see a thing
Why is it so powerful
When I can't feel a thing

Why is it so beautiful
When I can see a thing
Why is it so powerful
When I can't feel a thing
