I woke up early in my hotel room
Wait for my alarm to go.
I think about the things I've gotta do
Damn, my mind is gonna blow.
I'm thinking out, about what's ahead
Maybe I'll just stay in bed
'Cause it's no fun to be the one going out of my head
So I tell it to myself again

You're looking for something you can't find
If you give it up, you'll lose your mind
There's always something in your way
What can you say?
You're gonna have good day

I quit my job about a week ago
Told 'em that I need some time.
Now I'm going strong on Lexapro
Doctor says I'm doing fine.
I'm thinking out about what's ahead
Maybe I'll just stay in bed
'Cause it's no fun to be the one going out of my head
So I tell it to myself again

You're looking for something you can't find
If you give it up, you'll lose your mind
There's always something in your way
What can you say?
You're gonna have a good day

Jostling about I couldn't lose
I realized that it's the only thing I knew

I'm freaking out about what's ahead
Maybe I'll just stay in bed
'Cause it's no fun to be the one going out of my head
So I tell it to myself
Tell it to myself
Tell it to myself again

You're looking for something you can't find
If you give it up, you'll lose your mind

There's always something in your way

You're looking for something you can't find
If you give it up, you'll lose your mind
There's always something in your way
What can you say?

You're looking for something you can't find
If you give it up, you'll lose your mind
There's always something in your way
What can you say?
You're gonna have a good day

You're gonna have a good day

You're gonna have a good day
