My fingers tingle, my foot's asleep
Pins and needles sticking in me
My chicken's missing, my rooster's gone
Looks like midday but it's only dawn
I'm having a voodoo morning

My coffee's bitter, my eggs are hard
There's a black cat crossing my back yard
There's a crow at the window with a devil's scream
There's bones in the sink, tell me what does this mean?
I'm having a voodoo morning

My wallet's missing, my car won't start
Someone who hates me is attacking my heart
Some angry neighbor, some waiter I stiffed
Someone I left off my Christmas card list

I received no letters, no fax I see
There ain't no message on my message machine
No smoke signal, telegrams to read
Who in the hell sent this pain to me
I'm having a voodoo morning
