

Cliff Richard"House without windows"

Visit "House without windows" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm gonna move into
A house without windows
So I'll never see you walking by,
Walking by, with your new love

There in the darkness of
My house without windows
I won't have to see the stars that shine,
Shine on you and your new love

I'd rather wander through an endless night
Than face the light of another lonely day
Knowing that you won't be there,
There to share these two arms ever again

I'll take my broken heart
And I'll take all my broken dreams
And from now on you will find me there
Crying there, trying to forget

That you no longer want me
That you no longer need me
That you've gone and left me,
Left me here all alone

In my house without windows,
In my house without windows, without windows
And without love
In my house without windows,
In my house without windows
And without love

Visit Cliff Richard page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.