

Cliff Richard

"Love Never Gives Up"

Visit "Love Never Gives Up" on MotoLyrics.com

I've been to a place everyone should go
I know things now everyone should know
I have seen love struggle with pain
I have seen life living in vain
I saw a child - though hardly it seems
Life's not the same when you live in bad dreams

I walked around, the sun burned my head
Just a few hours, but time flowed like lead
I heard the sound of a big city cry trying to walk while the world rushed on by
And I have seen love shining from eyes
Tearfilled but strong, gentle but wise

I have heard it told that there's no God, no God of loving
Then how come I've seen a twisted child mildly receive His loving?
Love never gives up, love keeps on flowing - on and on Now if there's no God, then who do we blame?
'Cos though you take away God the hell still remains
And I have seen love, dampened by rain
Rise in the sun and triumph again

Visit Cliff Richard page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.