

Cliff Richard

"There's More To Life"

Visit "There's More To Life" on MotoLyrics.com

Free to run like the wind on a summer day
Heart worn like a ring around the moon
And your eyes are ablaze
Reflections of time passing by
That remind you there's much more to life
Than standing still
Or running from place to place in the heat of
The day
Just follow your heart and you'll see ...
There's more to life

There beyond the horizon there's another day
Far above the pain and fear you feel
The power and the pace
The greatest sensation of all
There's much more to life than you'll ever know
The rise and fall, there'll always be you and me
We're moving as one
So follow your heart and you'll see ...
There's more to life

We all have our dreams
We all have our visions
But time after time we're faced with decisions
Which road to follow?
How hard to fight?
Then you wake up and see
That there's more to life

Free in acres of sky on a summer day
Fire that burns with hope inside your heart
We are never apart
Reflections of time passing by
That remind you there's much more to life
So follow your heart and you'll see
If you follow your heart you'll be free
'cos there's more to life
So much more to life
More to life

