

Clifford T. Ward

"Are You Really Interested?"

Visit "Are You Really Interested?" on MotoLyrics.com

On the table by the window stood the vase with nothing
in it
And over by the door was where you cried and felt embarrassed
Then you said something about there being no flowers
in it
And I was all confused and you were looking quite your saddest
So come on girl and let me know just what I've got to do
You know I'd rather lose my life than give up loving you
Does everything we talked about now seem irrelevant?
Oh won't you say either way am I the one you want?

Are you really interested? Are you really sure?
Tell me once again, and I won't ask you anymore.

Are you really interested? Are you really sure?
Tell me once again, and I won't ask you anymore.

Do you remember when we could not find our way?
It was unimportant then unlike it is today
'Cause all that mattered was the way you smiled at me

And I was sure of you 'cause you were sure of me
So come on girl and let me know just what I mean to you
Are you sincere? do you still hear me like you used to do?
Come on girl make up your mind I'd really like to know
Are we all spent or permanent? do you stay or do you go?

Are you really interested? Are you really sure?
Tell me once again, and I won't ask you anymore.

Are you really interested? Are you really sure?
Tell me once again, and I won't ask you anymore.

Visit Clifford T. Ward page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

