Who could hang a dead man's swing set from the moon yeah you did Then you gave it to the ghosts and the witches.

Who can say goodbye with a yo del ay he hoo yeah you did
With the promise that the dead are now magicians

This Hymn rings with the singing of three cheers
For the king of the jungle gym He's the kid whose sword is a one hand shake a birthday cake invitation

You make traffic jams feel like parades
You bury the dead with the faith that makes lighting bugs swarm as if it was graduation

Who could change a silly life into a screaming super nova

you do you do

Who could my sleepy brain into the eye of a hurricane
