Everything is changing
You're looking for the cure
And you feel like you're the loneliest girl in the world
Trouble in your head now
Don't know what to do
Seems like up is down and red is blue

Red is blue
Red is blue

Remember when we started
Days when all was fun
All that we could make when life was young
Now you're getting older
Nothing feels the same
You can't even make sense of your own name

Because red is blue
(Doesn't make much sense)
But red is blue
(Messing with your head now)
Red is blue

Oohh
Oohh

In your heart
There's a room where you lock up
All the times and the things that she said
And now red is blue
What was near is far now
Red is blue
Like a fallen star
And red is blue

Oohh
Oohh
