Yeah

Mmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmm

oh oh oh

I've given up on love
And given up on trust
Every time I give my all
It never wasn't enough

But now your here
And everything is clear
My future has appeared [You are]
And there is not
One thing I would change

You were worth all of the pain
With all the tears
And all the games
So baby, I love you more with every day
Some things, some things are worth the wait

Some things are worth the wait
And you were worth the wait

And you were worth all those nights
I cried all along
And you were worth every lie
That made me lose control

But now I see
All I ever need
Is right in front of me [You are]
And there is not
One thing I would change

You were worth all of the pain
With all the tears
And all the games
So baby, I love you more with every day
Some things, some things are worth the wait

You were worth all of the pain
With all the tears
And all the games
So baby, I love you more with every day
Some things, some things are worth the wait

I wish there was a way
For you to get inside my head
Cuz if you did then, you would see
How thankful I am

You were worth all of the pain
With all the tears
And all the games
So baby, I love you more with every day
Some things, some things are worth the wait

You were worth all of the pain
With all the tears
And all the games
So baby, I love you more with every day

Ooooooh!Yeah, oh yeah, alright
Some things, some things
