Punk was meant to open your mind
Not to form cliques and stereotypes
Shaved head, spiked hair we look for any difference
To undermine, confine, and deplete our existence

[Chorus:]

Gossip and lies will bring the punks demise

So many people are out talking shit and spreading hate
Bringing down others so their egos can inflate
Nothing wrong with them just everyone else
Got a fucking rumour huh? just keep it to yourself

We're all guilty of ignorant stereotypes
But its up to us to change one at a time
Fuck punk vs. punk and skins vs. skins
Let's make this shit more than a high school trend
