"Who Commits The Crime?"

Anger and violence fill the fucking streets ...Who commits the crime?
And I don't think it's a result of you and me
People getting robbed raped murdered and maimed
But for some fucking reason we get the blame

[Chorus:]

How many lives have you fucked in the past
How many innocent people have you put on their backs
How much more will you steal with your imperialistic tax
Who's lifestyle is the crime?

You write the rules you don't even follow ...Who commits the crime?
And then you have the nerve to say that we are the problem
My biggest fault is thinking for myself
Our biggest fault is not bending over like everyone else

We're always wrong you're always right ...Who commits the crime?
You criticize every aspect of our lives
Why don't you take a look at your fucking self
And see how many people you've put through hell
