From this day on the spectre haunting europe will be gone

From this day on

From this day on the crooked cross of the south will reign

From this day on

There never was a better man then jack

In banana republic UK everything's up for grabs

Get me home, get me home

From this day on totally zonked out is the norm

From this day on

From this day on you can but share in layers of ozone

From this day on

There never was a leaner time for brains

In banana republic UK it's best to undercut your friends

Get me home, get me home, get off me

Get me home

There was never a better man that Jack

In banana republic, you get everything up for grabs

Get me home, get me home, get off me
