Oh that these waves of uncertainty would drown me and take me to my grave
I am broken for this cause
I'm tired of screaming words of hope and grace I'm unmoved, unstirred, unwavering Break these chains and set this captive free

Does anyone have the heart to stand with me?
I could never do this on my own
I stand by and watch my family slowly fall apart
If faith can cause the blind to see why can't it pick up my brothers and Sisters who have fallen down to the ground?
If there is no love then hope can never be found

Is this worth fighting for?
I am on my knees; I accept defeat
Is there hope for us?

How much love will we know to show if we have no love for ourselves?
It makes me sick to think that you and I could live this way
How much love will we know to show if we have no love
for ourselves?
It makes me sick to think that you and I live in apathy

Is this worth fighting for?
I am on my knees; I accept defeat
Is there hope for us?
I know it's worth fighting for I am on my knees, I can't accept defeat
There is hope for us!
Even in our darkest days and when it seems that we have (there is hope for Us) lost our way there is hope, there is hope there is a reason why we can Lift our hands and sing

It's wrong to say our hearts won't change as long as you are here
It's wrong to say our hearts won't change as long as you are here

It's wrong to say our hearts won't change as long as you are
It's wrong to say our hearts won't change as long as you are...

Who will be the hands and feet?
Who will go share this love with me?
Who will be the hands and feet?
Who will be the hands and feet?
(It's wrong to say our hearts won't change as long as you are)
Who will go share this love with me?
Who will be the hands and feet of jesus?

It's wrong to say our hearts won't change as long as you are
It's wrong to say our hearts won't change as long as you are
