You, you've been lookin' at me just a little too long
Now I can never look the same Blindness and kindness, there's no difference in the two
When I can no longer see the good in you

So won't you show me a little shame
Won't you show me a little shame

Now 'cause I'm, I'm a gentleman, lookin' for a gentlewomen
So called ladies they keep breakin' my heart
Show me a house, show me a home
Show me how it could all fall apart

Now, won't you show me a little shame
Won't you show me a little shame
Won't you show me a little shame

'Cause now I wake up in the morning
More tired than before I slept
I get through cryin'
And I'm sadder than before I wept

I get through thinkin'
And the thoughts have left my head
I get through speakin'
And I can't remember not a word that I said

You change your mind so many times
I wonder if you have a mind at all
And I'd rather be by myself
Than to have your lonesome company come to call

Now, won't you show me a little shame
Won't you show me a little shame
Won't you show me a little shame
Won't you show me a little shame
