Album : Dead Flowers For A Dying Lover (2002) who said he loved only what a man has written with his blood, for this song I'll run the well dry for every breath I take all for you for every word that i speak speak for you and every photo I see I see you and each time that I die I know every drop of blood is for you, no hope for me nothing is clear except that I know everything is lost dead wrong dead last dead fucking broke for each time that you cry cry with you and when you walked out the door leave me too and everything I've ever done done for you so I'll wallow here in a bloody pool with or with out you
