Album : Dead Flowers For A Dying Lover (2002)

The Decay Of Autumn

we are the ones that once were and the ones that shall be again

we are the eye's in the dark forever whispers in the shadow of our hearts we're the wind that calls at night, by the glow of moonlight

we are the crimson stains by the gates of our rest by the hanging tree's

Until we fall, [in shadows we are one] this blackened heart beats for you, only for you.

these tears have grown to a shallow pool shallow like you
