Starving for democracy A world with no justice The gap between the rich and poor is evolving enormous A child dreams about nothing more than a meal A man dreams about nothing more than escape A child dreams about nothing more than a meal A man dies for nothing more than his dreams The puppeteers and the thought control The presidential campaigns Uncle Sam's got no one left to blame A grip applied upon the throats of any active cause A crooked government accomplishes the first world of applause A child dreams nothing more than a meal A man dies dreaming of dreams Nationalists dropping bombs, calling this a winning team Uncle Sam's got no one left to blame
