Hey baby do you see what I see
Hey baby did you hear the decree
Hey baby, can you look in his eyes
And does it still make you feel high

And are you ready to go
Go out to, to the Edge of Man
Do you see the sound of the stars
A red roar on Mars

One thing that we share is the silence of God
We got nothing to do but wait out our trip
To the end of the world, you get used to it
And all we're asking for
Is nothing but the truth

And are you feeling enough free will
And is it burdening you still
Well, let's hope her world just dies
And as we learn from the lies
Do you see the sound of the stars
A red roar on Mars

One thing that we share is the silence of God
We got nothing to do but wait out our trip
To the end of the world, you get used to it
And all we're asking for
Is nothing but the truth
