"No More Pills"

I still have perfume on my skin,
It's been twenty minutes since you went.
I know I should fall asleep.
I know I won't fall asleep.

It's clear, I've already spilled,
Unreturned but I'm head over heels.
It's alright, just eat a few more pills,
Cause it's just me and me without you kills.

I still have your body on my mind.
Always in the front and left behind.
I know I should walk away.
I know why I can't walk away.

It's clear, I've already spilled,
Unreturned but I'm head over heels.
It's alright, just eat a few more pills,
'Cause it's just me and me without you kills.

Just when I thought you had left suddenly you're walking back.

And it's clear, she's already spilled.
It's returned and I'm head over heels.
It's alright, just put away those pills.
She's got me, and my whole life is filled.
