falling from grace
once again
six months of trying
all in vain

a matter of time
before it ends
give me a chance here
and i'll take a stand

stop this from going wrong
reject those who don't belong
handle with care
and be aware
is not what we do

those who can rise
will fall again
i hold to something
until the end

i thought everyone was special but i'm not sure now when you leave this world or leave your friends
you're replaced by someone better someone better replaces you

is not what we do
