"Those Charming Men"

Visit "Those Charming Men" on MotoLyrics.com stupid girl those charming men won't look at me i'm not blond enough and i still believe in love how could i be so wrong it wasn't my turn to be fooled by him loved and left alone

chorus
i was the one who always waited for something
and just some loving in the morning
wouldn't help
to make my world seem alright

here i am and i don't think you were right the time you were my friend and you told me to wrap my arms around him
