She cries just a little when she sees him walk away
After all she can't see it any other way
And it's hard when you feel like there's nothing left to lose
She can't help it she sees no excuse
There's no good in her goodbye
There's no tears she hasn't cried
But it's not enough
She needs nothing less than love
Don't say the sacrifice is small
And no one ever has it all
When all she wants is nothing less than love
You can stand in the middle and see it either way
That's just how it is no one ever wants to blame
So she picked up the pieces and pretends she just can't see
All she's looking for is some room to breathe

There's no good in her goodbye
There's no tears she hasn't cried
But it's not enough
She needs nothing less than love
Don't say the sacrifice is small
And no one ever has it all
When all she wants is nothing less than love
She knows better than to wait
Just keep waiting till it's too late
There's no good in her goodbye
There's no tears she hasn't cried
But it's not enough
She needs nothing less than love
Don't say the sacrifice is small
And no one ever has it all
When all she wants is nothing less than love
