"Mr. Philosopher"

Mr. Sailor, sail your seas but navigate the way back home
Mr. Philosopher agrees and he thinks that you should know
To follow the sun, when you don't know where Where you're from

And to let a moment change your mind
And let a mind meet someone else's
And to let somebody else be right
'Cause if you're wise, you know nothing at all

Mrs. Naturally extreme, you're beautiful to me
'Cause in your eyes I see you're clean of the disposable machine
Yeah, all that you need is someone to
To believe

So let a moment change your mind
And let a mind meet someone else's
Let somebody else be right
'Cause if you're wise, you know nothing at all

Mr. Robber, save your soul
And before you take my things, just let me know
If it were all your own, you wouldn't need any more
If you ruled the world, you wouldn't blow down my door

Let a moment change your mind
And let a mind meet someone else's
Let somebody else be right,
Let a moment change your mind, let a moment change your mind
Let a moment change your mind
And let a mind meet someone else's
Let somebody else be right,
'Cause it you're wise, you know nothing at all
If you're wise, you know nothing at all
