"Room 1023"

In room 1023, if you could only know what you're about to see you will be ready for what comes to be, for what comes to be.

You will walk and you will fly, you won't stop to question why,
you will learn, you will grow, it doesn't matter where you go
You will float on down the road, and you'll be dreaming as you float,
holding everything you need in your arms.

Well you're on the road, living life like you have never lived before, you won't let nothing hold you in,
on your way to freedom.

question why,
you go
You will float on down the road, and you'll be
dreaming as you float,
holding everything you need in your arms.

In room 1027, you'll discover heaven, she'll be like nothing you've ever seen, like you've never seen.

question why,
you go
You will float on down the road, and you'll be
dreaming as you float,
holding everything you need in your arms.
