"Vulnerable"

"Vulnerable"

Pieces lying all around me
Guess the trouble found me and I'm back to being numb
This time, I have come to realize
If I take the same line, I'll be back to where I'm from

Keep me free, keep me away, keep me believable, keep me vulnerable

Faded, I'm becoming jaded
No way to escape it and not be on the run
Weakening, I feel myself repeating
What do I have to lose before I put you down?

Keep me free, keep me away, keep me believable, keep me vulnerable
I need to feel, feel to be free so keep me sensitive, keep me vulnerable

And I'll be floating around, getting lost in the songs I bring
Looking for the simple things to keep myself awake

Wasted, getting so complacent
Taking things for granted
And time's been creeping by

Keep me free, keep me away, keep me believable, keep me vulnerable
I need to feel, feel to be free so keep me sensitive, keep me vulnerable
