While the stars shine
And the rivers flow towards the sea
Until the day in which you return
I know that I will not stop to loving you

If you listened to my moan
If you saw me you would return,
I have already paid a high price
By the badly that I did to you

I'm guilty already I know it
And I'm sorry, I request you

Imagine me without you,
And you'll return to me
You know that without your love,
I'm nothing
That I'll not be able to survive
Imagine me without you
When you look over my picture
If something in you, stays from me
Please return,
Imagine me without you

My smile has erased
And rain has not stopped,
If you knew as it hurts
Not having you with me

I'm guilty already I know it
And I'm sorry

Imagine me without you,
And you'll return to me
You know that without your love,
I'm nothing
That I'll not be able to survive
Imagine me without you
When you look over my picture
If something in you, stays from me
Please return,
Imagine me without you...
