I know you never felt at home
And now you think you're not alone
You're not afraid to say it loud
Why are you lazy and so proud
Two thousand kids with guitars
All in a world of their own
And you don't need to go too fast
Cause where you're happy is your home
Who cares who's cool, who cares who's dead
You've got your group of slacker friends
And when you're tired you lie down
Why are you lazy and so proud
Ten thousand kids with guitars
All in a world of their own
And you don't need to go too fast
Cause where you're happy is your home
