Here I am in another role I can't understand
Don't even know why I'm watching this band
Wrote you a poem you said it was the worst
You don't know how much time I spent on that verse
I blew my chance once, I won't do it again
Set off the detector on my second time in
I don't wanna speak to you
Get your shovel bury my hurt
Give back the records you forgot to return
I don't wanna speak to you
I never wanna see you again
Don't worry about the prices
Order what you've got time to kill
It doesn't bother me we're splitting the bill
I told you about it you were happy for me
And now I'm owned by a soft-drink company
I swear to god mum I won't do it again
Wrong flavor slurpee at the 7-11
I can't even contemplate
Drink your coffee get back to work
Went to get cereal forgot to return
I can't even tell you how badly I think you're a jerk
I'm not jealous
You just bore me to death
' Cause it's too cold out when I
Catch me my death
I can't even contemplate
Drink your coffee get back to work
Went to get cereal forgot to return
I can't even tell you how badly I think you're
I can't even tell you how badly I think you're
I can't even tell you how badly I think you're a jerk
