Love love love love love

Do you wonder if love is just a word?
Do you wonder if it all will work out?
Are you scared to believe there is something that you need?
Are you scared to believe in yourself?

Well this the song of love and it just take a minute This song of love and I want you to sing it

Love love love love love

Do you wonder where you fit in?
Are you lost in the same old crowd?
Are you spending all your time picking out all the pieces of a puzzle that you just can't figure out?

Well this is a song of love coz the world really needs it
This is the song of love and so I dare you to scream it

Love love love love love

Love love love love love

This is the song of love,
This is the song of love,
This is the song of love,
This is the song of love
and I want you to sing it

love love love love love
love love love love love
love love love love love
