I'm going up to be a child
While I see with my eyes closed
Listen up they won't say it again
You gotta let go what you love the most
And in the morning I'm chained to the bed
And the world's got me by the throat
I'll forget you when I walk away with Just this suitcase and a winter coat
I've got bad ideas
But you've had worse
I'll jump that bridge if you do it first
I'll just that bridge if you do it first
And if nothing else I still have got a
Name that you gave me when I was born
And deep inside we're still the same
It's just that we have taken different roads
It's funny that a point of view can make a body decompose
I have heard your stories
I guess you've had your fun
Even you're not staying here alone
Even you're not staying here alone
