Where is home if you can't find it?
What is hell if you don't like it?
One letter difference between sacred and scared
You're riding on the city transit
Back to your 2 room apartment
Too safe to advertise that you never really cared
So why do you try so hard?
When you never really fit the part
It's more than just the sun that didn't set
You missed that call 2 times today
They were just trying to say hello to you,
Hello to you
So you take a deep breath and
You wrap that scarf around your neck
And you try to settle down
But things don't seem to work that way
Change is just another phase
