Nobody's hungry, everyone is well to do and we lack motivation if the truth can set you free then how can we keep dying for you? in a distant land of different ways our only connection is a television in the living room and the anchor is only putting you to bed with filler in your head delivering a trivial story instead of giving you what might be trouble for the CEO (GOP) they're only putting you to bed don't understand why they want to hurt you you only know about your country's virtue you've never heard about a term called blowback it's the result of a central intelligent attack

I want to know what makes you wake up wake up!
