You raised your hand
Inside my land,
But no one saw
When we ran.

And all those lies
Are in their eyes,
They'll pay the prize
When we arise.

I doubt in fate
It made me late,
I lie and wait
For our days.

And when we go
They will know,
They'll pay the prize
When we arise.

I know it's hard to see
But you are just like me
And I can guarantee
That this is all we need

I know it's hard to see
But you are just like me
And I can guarantee
That this is all we need

It's cold outside
But we won't hide,
I'm warm inside,
You've made me shy.

I'm in disguise
Before your eyes,
They'll pay the prize
When we arise.

I know it's hard to see
But you are just like me,

And I can guarantee
That this is all we need.

I know it's hard to see
But you are just like me,
And I can guarantee
That this is all we need.

I know it's hard to see
But you are just like me,
And I can guarantee
That this is all we need.

I know it's hard to see
But you are just like me,
And I can guarantee
That this is all we need.

I know it's hard to see
But you are just like me,
And I can guarantee
That this is all we need.

I know it's hard to see
But you are just like me,
And I can guarantee
That this is all we need.
