Steady now
You see your door has darkened
For only dead men does the Devil come no more
Don't hasten to deny your own desire
For these bitter hands have seen this blood before

You wanna take me
What are you waiting for
Let's have some fun now, baby

So I'll drink your poisoned words
So sweet that I almost believe you
I'll play the villain to your victim
But tell me who's the hero in your tragedy

I know what no one knows
This senseless hate has held me
To what degree
Will you sentence me
You spread disease
Until there's nothing left of me

Name[?] yourself as though you're still a person
I'd want to know
It's just a forgotten soul decays
You wanted war
Just a scared little girl
But do you know what you're fighting for

You wanna take me
What the fuck are you waiting for
Are we having yet

I know what no one knows
This senseless hate has held me
To what degree
Will you sentence me
You spread disease

You can't silence words you spoken

Can't mend the bones you've broken
There's no escaping
And no one's getting out alive

You can't silence words you spoken
Can't mend the bones you've broken
There's no escaping
And no one's getting out alive

You wanna take me
What the fuck are you waiting for

I know what no one knows
This senseless hate has held me
To what degree
Will you sentence me
You spread disease

You can't silence words you spoken
Can't mend the bones you've broken
There's no escaping
And no one's getting out alive

You can't silence words you spoken
Can't mend the bones you've broken
There's no escaping
And no one's getting out alive

You can't silence words you spoken
Can't mend the bones you've broken
There's no escaping
And no one's getting out alive
