All of my days are blending,
Into one lonely night.
I keep hoping that you're on your way over,
But I'm probably losing sight.

Just when I started to feel good,
You call me up on the phone.
Asking how I've been and what am I doing.
I say, nothing much at all,
In fact I haven't really been home
I've been wandering around
I've been wandering around (oooohhhh, oooohhh ooh)
I've been wandering around
I've been wandering around (wandering around)

You know, I couldn't love you more.
But I'm sure you've heard it all before.
I've been wandering around
I've been wandering around (oooohhhh, oooohhh, ooh)
I've been wandering, I've been wandering around
I've been wandering around
I've been wandering around (I've been wandering around)
I've been wandering around
I've been wandering around, around.

All of my days are blending,
Into one lonely night.
