So now I remember
That I saw you yesterday.
Tuesday seems so far away.
And there is so much, so much in our way.
I'm still up missing you;
You're asleep and I'm awake.

And I hear you hanging up the phone.
Dial tone
And I hate it when we're both alone.
And now I miss you,
And I want to see you soon
This happens every time;
Every time I say goodbye.

And when I'm driving,
I thank God for what I've got.
You love me for who I am,
And you don't hate for what I'm not.
So many things about which we can complain.
Too many roadblocks,
But I love you all the same.
