Because I started off summer on the right foot
Being lazy everyday
Cause I had to find a job
To pass those lonesome summer days
Found this job on the Internet
Hoping it would be cool
A spearhead boss who chewed me out
Is who I came to know.

Cause my boss calls me names and he complains
Why must he be so lame?
My boss calls me names and he complains
Why must he be so lame to me?

Part time turned to fulltime
As more hostility arose.
Twenty times was called an fing moron to my nose.
But I didn't lose any hope
About who I am inside.
He's going to get what's coming to him,
Five across the eye.
