

Cold Mountain

"Like A Songbird That Has Fallen"

Visit "Like A Songbird That Has Fallen" on MotoLyrics.com

Paths are there for us to follow, this is gospel I believe Angels are around us flying, truth and mercy to recieve
Pictures of uncommon nature, painted by a masters hand
Draw me ever on life's journey, rendered thus to understand

As a songbird that is fallen, only to regain the sky
From this frozen shadow valley, lay my sweary head

Love is from no distance calling, faithful as the rising sun
Warms the bitter heart and heartache, till the east of Eden's gone
Clouds of fear and misconception, wax and wane as if the moon
So is in a sense forsaken, till the will of God be known

As a songbird that is fallen, only to regain the sky
From this frozen shadow valley, lay my sweary head

Visit Cold Mountain page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.