You were a rose among my thorns
You were the calm in the eye of every storm
Now you're gone
And I have no more tears to cry
We never had a chance to say goodbye

Oh bless the brand new angel
Heaven isn't all that far
And though time came to take you
You're still living here in my heart
With our love that's never changing
Please bless a brand new angel

You were my refuge from the rain
And when you smiled you brought summer back again
I'll hold you here forever in my mind
Till we meet someday on the other side of time

Oh bless the brand new angel
Heaven isn't all that far
Though time came to take you
You're still living in my heart
With our love that's never changing
Please bless a brand new angel

Without you the sun will never shine as bright
You're magic touch lit up each corner of my life

With our love that's never changing
Please bless a brand new angel
Please bless a brand new angel
