I was walking on a beach
I was walking all alone
Walking on a beach
Walking all alone
Walking on a beach, walking all alone
I looked down on the ground and saw your picture on a stone
Picture on a stone

Well of course I picked it up and I held it in my hand
Well of course I picked it up and I held it in my hand
Of course I picked it up and held it in my hand
Right away I knew it was not made by man
I saw your picture on a stone

Well, I gave it one last look and I threw it in the see
Gave it one last look and I threw it in the see
Gave it one last look and I threw it in the see
You can catch some fish with trinkets but you can't catch me
I saw your picture on a stone
