She threw me through the bedroom door
Said, "Get your suitcase off my floor"
Oh! Oh she'll break yours too
I got my things up off the floor
I guess that girl ain't my girl anymore
Oh! Oh she'll break yours too
I will not let this get me down
Who knows, things might look up next time around
There won't be no tears in my eyes
Nobody wants to see a grown man cry
I see them everywhere I go
When they pass, they smile and say hello
Oh! Oh she'll break yours too
Well you can smile, go ahead and smirk
Soon I think you'll know just what it's worth
Oh! Oh she'll break yours too
Two months later, he's swallowing pills
He's poised out on his window sill
He sits with a revolver lying on the livingroom floor
Guess that girl don't love him no more

Two months later, he's swallowing pills
He's poised out on his window sill
He sits with a revolver lying on the livingroom floor
Guess that girl don't love him no more
I told him once, I told him twice
That boy would not follow my advice
Oh! Oh she'll break yours too
So don't come around here asking me how
Oh! Oh she'll break yours
Oh! Oh she'll break yours
Oh! Oh she'll break yours too
