It lives in a castle, away from the people
Gentlemen kill the jury now say well lets go
I can't stop leaving the lights on
I can't stop leaving the lights on.
The weight of the sea is gonna crush me, finally!
Its honest i know, so everybody lose control!
Im awake in the world of a second class citizen,
Approach with caution (then) lead me into chaos.
Awake in the world of a military prison,
The sound is breaking every door down in this complex
Wrecked in a mansion, awake with the fevers.
The taps and the clicks around me
That say "go", so lets go.
I can't stop leaving the lights on
I can't stop leaving the lights on
The weight of the sea is gonna kill me, finally!
Its honest I know, so everybody lose control!
Im awake in the world of a second class citizen,
Approach with caution (then) lead me into chaos.
Awake in the world of a military prison,
The sound is breaking every door down in this complex.
There's nothing safe about these pills that we take,
They make the nightmares that keep us awake!
