Thought our love would last, I thought it last for a lifetime
I was by your side for advice

Even though we had, bad times there was good times
I was your baby, you were mine

Everyday you're still on my mind
Memories never fade
Wishing that our time would rewind
Like you never went away

Ever since you left, it's been harder and harder
I can't let you go, even though you've gone away
I don't understand, I ask god for answers
While I'm here alone still missing you today

As I sit alone, still feeling the trauma
When I took that call that you went away
And I can't comprehend, how someone could do this Take someones life, and throw it all away

Everyday you're still on my mind
Memories never fade
Wishing that our time would rewind
Like you never went away

Ever since you left, it's been harder and harder
I can't let you go, even though you've gone away
I don't understand, I ask god for answers
While I'm here alone still missing you today

All the long nights, of hopeless dreaming
Of you coming home are gone

Ever since you left, it's been harder and harder
I can't let you go, even though you've gone away
I don't understand, I ask god for answers
While I'm here alone still missing you today
